A Killer's Confession

Voices, voices, voices

Dead memories
Flesh from the bone
Stuck on replay
Cold and alone
Look at the scars that you own

You're under the pressure
You know what's at stake
Confronting the darkness
But you'll never break
I see your obsession
You've got what it takes
Finding a way to make your escape

I can be, I can be the one inside your mind
Hard to breathe when it's coming down to do or die
We will meet, we will meet in the afterlife
At the gates it's a pleasure that we can't deny

I'm playing catch-up with these voices
I've got to justify my choices
Voices, voices, voices

Love will remain
A fight to let go
Look at my scars
Attached to my soul
Releasing the pain to find your escape

I can be, I can be the one inside your mind
Hard to breathe when it's coming down to do or die
We will meet, we will meet in the afterlife
At the gates it's a pleasure that we can't deny

I'm playing catch-up with these voices
I've got to justify my choices
I feel at war from the person inside
No, I can't escape from the Jekyll and Hyde
I know I've got to stand behind my choices

Voices, voices, voices
Voices, voices, voices

Show them the pain that we've always known
Revealing our heart how you've turned them to stone
Finding the truth from inside the dark
Show them that he was to blame from the start

I'm playing catch-up with these voices
I've got to justify my choices
I feel at war from the person inside
No, I can't escape from the Jekyll and Hyde
I know I've got to stand behind my choices

Voices, voices

I can be, I can be the one inside your mind
Hard to breathe when it's coming down to do or die
We will meet, we will meet in the afterlife
At the gates it's a pleasure that we can't deny
