

Drive

A Life Divided

Only one last step too far
Now I'm drifting out to open seas
Like a blind man on the run
Like a preacher without his belief

I drive and I drive and I drive out of your story
I drive and I drive and I drive out of your head
I drive and I drive and I drive to a brand new morning
I drive and I drive for as long as it may take

We got too close to the sun
Now we're burning, anyone can see
When all is over and done
Will we regret what we could have been

Only one last word too hard
Now it feels like I am incomplete
Like a driver without car
Like a black hole without gravity

A million miles away
One million miles away
