

Forevermore

A Life Divided

I've got a ticket for a ride to your galaxy
The train departs tomorrow night here at Elm Street'
It will take me quite a while, I've got books with me
And I'm excited 'bout the things that I will see

In this minute we are losing gravity
Beyond my system in the orbit fantasy
We're rushing through the dark, muted and silently
We don't look back to what we've already seen

Soon my friend, before long, we'll meet again

A few creatures try to form a colony
On YC2 I thought I saw gods enemy
We're on the backside of the planetary wheel I see
Must be halfway through this dark journey

Soon my friend, before long, we'll meet again
Soon my friend, soon my friend

[Chorus]

When all is said and done, I'm not the only one
'Cause you'll be there for me, when our time has come
Forevermore, forevermore

We're breaking though the mist of nuclear dust
And see Bowie himself to the sound of space oddity
Are we dead, are we alive?
It feels weird to me
Dancing with the dead out of reality
Soon my friend, before long, we'll meet again

Soon my friend, before long, we'll meet again
Soon my friend, soon my friend

[Chorus]
