

On the edge

A Life Divided

Now I can't feel you
'Cause I can't feel nothing at all
And I can't see you
I keep staring at the wall
And I don't dream of you
'Cause every time I did I couldn't get you out of my head

I don't believe you
'Cause every word you're saying is wrong
How can I leave you
When you're already gone?
I'd like to feel you but every time I try I lose myself inside your lie

Welcome back
I can't feel
Won't stand back
I came through

Are you ready?
I can't feel, I can't feel,
I can't feel, I can't feel

No, I can't hold you
'Cause my soul is cold as ice
Have I not told you that I'm freezing from inside?
How could I love you when everything that's left is just another selfish lie?

I wanna lose you
but you keep spinning in my mind
I wanna kill you
but will your ideas stay alive?
I walk away from you but with every little step I just go further back in time

Welcome back
I can't feel
Won't stand back
I came through

Are you ready?
I can't feel, I can't feel,
I can't feel, I can't feel

I'm falling away to the point
I'm standing in the steps, spread my wings but I'm lost
I'm falling away from a life that I could never love

Are you ready?
I can't feel, I can't feel
