I stood like a czar under a bold Russian sky Unbreakable.

Unwavering against the curvature of time.

Unbreakable.

Picture me on a a crowded Tokyo street.

Unbreakable

In a dingy London meet, or burning in the desert heat. Unbreakable.

I'm a jet setter, west bound on the highway.
I only wish you could be here now.
If you just look west I'll be racing by the archway.
I only wish you could be here now.

I stood like a czar under the dark, St. Louis sky. Unbreakable,
Unwavering against the Mississippi tide.
Unbreakable.

I'm a jet setter, west bound on the highway.
I only wish you could be here now.
If you just look west I'll be racing by the archway.
I only wish you could be here now.

I'm shining on.
These days are out of control.
Moving faster than the world.

I'm a jet setter, west bound on the highway.
I only wish you could be here now.
If you just look west I'll be racing by the archway.
I only wish you could be here now.

I'd have you sing along to every ten cent song. Your eyes would signal me like a transistor radio. We'd drink ourselves to sleep. We'd drink ourselves complete. If only you would be here now.