

Oh Fractal Heart

A Loss for Words

Oh fractal heart, she's really got her hooks deep in you now.
Oh tired brain, she's running circles around us again.
This time I come clean.
I'm anxious to sweep you off your feet.
This time I come clean.
I'm anxious to get between your sheets.
Lately I just cannot keep myself together.
Lately I can't keep her from my thoughts.
I've been waiting for so long.
I haven't felt this in forever.
I cannot keep myself together.

Oh fractal heart, we're heading for that train wreck.
It's so hard to come correct and keep myself in check.
The way she rubs her wrist together and places one upon her neck.
This time I come clean.
I'm anxious to sweep you off your feet.
This time I come clean.
I'm anxious to get between your sheets.
Lately I just cannot keep myself together.
Lately I can't keep her from my thoughts.
I've been waiting for so long.
I haven't felt this in forever.
I cannot keep myself together.

My face to the concrete every time our eyes meet.
Her cheek bones impale me with syncopated heart beats.
This time I come clean.
I'm anxious to sweep you off your feet.
This time I come clean.
I'm anxious to get between your sheets.
Lately I just cannot keep myself together.
Lately I can't keep her from my thoughts.
I've been waiting for so long.
I haven't felt this in forever.
I cannot keep myself together.
Oh fractal heart, I cannot keep myself together
