

To Die in Your Arms

A Pale Horse Named Death

There's nothing more I'd like than to have you hold me
As I spill my blood on your milk white skin
There's nothing more for me here and what could be better, but to lay here with you and die in your arms

To die in your arms is my pleasure
My blood on you I will treasure

The world is killing my soul and you can save me nothing greater than to shake my end with you
When I pass, cover me in black lace with your black lips, kiss my face
When you feel my heart stop you can say a prayer

To die in your arms is my pleasure
My blood on you I will treasure
And when I look in your eyes I say goodbye

Feel so, so cold
Feel myself letting go

To die in your arms is my pleasure
My blood on you I will treasure
And when I look in your eyes,
I saw goodbye
