

Smooth Modulator

A Static Lullaby

(One day we'll crush this van
wind up in your attic
And with what we learned last night
We can never take ourselves away)

No self control
We are blown to the winds and we'll float
From state to wretched state
Crematories for past relationships
(We separate ourselves)

Can we push this any further (stand back)
And watch your family fall apart (much more)
Much more than playing off of words but
Losing a piece of myself

(With what we learned last night
I can never take myself away)

I'm sure we're all the same
And we've found a way to Associate ourselves for love of money
and we're glorified
(We separate ourselves)

Can we push this any further (stand back)
And watch your family fall apart (much more)
Much more than playing off of words but
Losing a piece of myself
A piece of myself

Our lovers drink alone tonight (our lovers drink alone tonight)
(3x)
Tonight, tonight, tonight!

Can we push this any further (dead end)
And watch your family fall apart (much more)
Much more than playing off of words but
Losing a piece of myself

Our lovers drink alone tonight (our lovers drink alone tonight)
(4x)
[chorus repeated in the background]
