

You're In Good Hands

A Taste Of Honey

I know you're kind of blue
'Cause love ain't been good to you
Well dry your pretty eyes, those days are through
Hey, you're in good hands now
You're in good hands

All the love you gave went to waste
All the heartaches she made you face
Things will be different now with me in her place
Hey, you're in good hands now

If trouble ever comes to you, I'll see it through, me and you
And whenever you are down, I'll be around
You will never have a need for anything
My love will bring true happiness to you

'Cause I, 'cause I, I realize it's your heart I have here
So delicate and oh so rare
I promise to handle it with tender loving care
Hey, you're in good hands now, yeah

Don't you wanna taste the honey, honey, honey
Honey, honey, honey, honey, honey, honey
Honey, honey, honey, honey, honey, honey...

You're in good hands now, baby
(You're in good hands now)
You're in good hands now, baby
(You're in good hands now)
