

Silence

A Whisper in the Noise

There is this silence in the room from when I had last assumed you could feel the way I do but that was never true don't fret, it was a mistake still I feel I'm out of place so I'll go where I can feel something that's far from being real and daydream away

Well, here I am once again by me the one undying friend but I lose the sight of this I my own fright of this and daydream away
