Have the Night

A

In the height of conversation
There’s a sudden situation
On the old and rocky road
There’s a place where no one goes
There’s a statue in the fields
Mother Mary gently kneels
Coffee spilling on the floor
Some say they’ve seen this day before

A thousand miles away for all of you who believe in faith
There’s an evil plan and nation and it’s calling out your name

So give me the drums and the bass line
And give me a bunk and a flashlight
And give me the moon and the room
You can have the night
Smoke to death in the back
That is the place where it’s at
Give me the breach to believe

You can have the night

A thousand miles away for all of you who believe in faith
There’s an evil plan and nation and it’s calling out your name
A thousand miles away for all of you who believe in faith
There’s voices in the air out there, they’re calling near a day

A thousand miles away for all of you who believe in faith
There’s an evil plan and nation and it’s calling out your name
A thousand miles away for all of you who believe in faith
There’s voices in the air out there, they’re calling near a day
