I bet it's not the first time
I bet it's not the last time that you try
There's not a second wasted
And all I get is flashes in my eye
Don't point that thing at me
And don't you tell me I am just the one
You use your finger, you press the trigger
Know what you're after, your photo finger
The difference it makes to me
Turn and face away, you will go blind
I guess you see right through me
It only takes a minute of your time

Your bedroom's busy way into the night

Your photo finger, it's getting bigger
You didn't think I'd notice,
You're knocking up another eight by ten
You get an hour service,
Yeah, everybody needs it now and then
You're [...] on my [...]
And then you tell me I'm the only one
You're getting thinner, your photo finger
It's getting bigger, your photo finger
