

WEAPON

Aaron Cole

Uh

My 15th birthday signed to Truth
They still owe me money and that's the truth
God was just teaching me how to wait on his time
Cause I was rushing trigger happy thinking I'm losing my prime
I still remember the time I signed on the dotted line
My moms just looked, and she cried
Even my aunt
We was in her kitchen I'm thinking I'll pay her back
Fast forward and I ain't gave her a dime
It really mess with my mind
Cause I be thinking like
If I dealt with my doubt and I was thinking right
Or if I knew I was enough would save me sleeping nights
I'm really leaning on Jesus, I'm on my Lincoln Heights
It feel like Bristol Nights
Just dreaming bout how we gon fill out the plan
I'm only halfway there feel like I just began
But I keep my head up cause the kids watching
That's how it's been since me and pops was out here driving the van
It's like that

Still workin' but it's worth it
Only bought me closer to my purpose
Yeah, I remember the times I was really stressing
That's why I thank the good Lord for every blessing
Cause it's been a long (Long)
A long-time yeah
But I know, I know

On the other side I can't complain at all
Went from Virginia High to shows in Montreal
Was beginning to get involved
The shows turned into tours
The tours turned into more
Yeah, God been raining down
And when he rains, he pours
Way back when me and Rahj was kickin' freestyles
And shout out B Waid he always held the team down, uh
They both got out the city and living dreams now
Maybe dudes back in the town really believe now
My sister on the way to gettin' a college degree
My other sister on her way to singing better than me, uh
My parents living good this been a better year
And my girl still by my side she overcoming fear
And far as me, I take it day by day
Life's good a lot of get aways
Want me to give a ticket this ain't a giveaway
I can't give you his favor, but I can show you the way
