

Fall With Me

Aaron Doh

When the world comes falling down will you fall with me?
Or has the apple fell too far now to reach the tree?
Left to wither, left to waste
A broken core the only trace
So what is death but everything we'll never see?

Oh, when the world comes falling down will you fall with me?
And when our feet don't touch the ground we'll be floating free
The more that we go blind, yeah, the more we'll see
So when the world comes falling down just fall with me

Oh, fall with me
Oh, fall with me

Ballad for the broken
Human for the scars
You can find it in the heavens
It's been written in the stars

I found something that I already had from the start
Yeah, it tore out my heart, now I'm somebody new I'll search from afar, I'm just lost in the dark
I've been gripping my heart while I search for the truth

When the world comes falling down will you fall with me?
Or has the apple fell too far now to reach the tree?
A broken core the only trace
So what is death but everything we'll never see?

Oh, when the world comes falling down will you fall with me?
And when our feet don't touch the ground we'll be floating free
The more that we go blind, yeah, the more we'll see
So when the world comes falling down just fall with me

Oh, fall with me
Oh, fall with me

World caught falling
Lies I'm calling
Have I found my way

Oh, when the world comes falling down will you fall with me?
And when our feet don't touch the ground—
When the world comes falling down just fall with me
