

Reconsider

Aaron Lewis

Take another look around me
Still waitin' for my light to shine
But if you looked you haven't found me, baby
And I don't wanna waste your time

But if I try would you reconsider?
Would you reconsider comin' home?
And if I cried would you reconsider?
Would you reconsider comin' home?

Take a breath and try to hold it
Wish I could hold it long enough
Can't help but hate the way we've fallen, baby
And I was never good enough

And if I try would you reconsider?

Would you reconsider comin' home?
And if I cried would you reconsider?
Would you reconsider comin' home?

You know, I hate myself when I'm not with you
'Cause I don't know what I'm supposed to do
But I tried to take a step today
And I keep getting in my way
So I take another look around me

And if I tried would you reconsider?
Would you reconsider comin' home?
And if I cried would you reconsider?
Would you reconsider comin' home?
