

Demolition

Aaron Pritchett

I've been hitting my heart with a wrecking ball
Brick by brick, wall by wall
'Til every little bit of your memory falls
Down in a cloud of dust
And I won't quit 'til the love we've known
Is twisted steel and broken stone
Like it never lived, like it never was
This is the demolition of us

Built it up over time
Higher than the roof on a huge skyscraper
Full of love, full of life
Never thought of you as a cruel heartbreaker
But you did what you did
So I do what I do
And if I chip away, every day
Oh, then maybe I'll finally get rid of you

I've been hitting my heart with a wrecking ball
Brick by brick, wall by wall
'Til every little bit of your memory falls
Down in a cloud of dust
And I won't quit 'til the love we've known
Is twisted steel and broken stone
Like it never lived, like it never was
This is the demolition of us

But you did what you did
So I do what I do
And if I chip away, every day
Until you're just somebody I never knew

I keep hitting my heart with a wrecking ball
Brick by brick, wall by wall
'Til every little bit of your memory falls
Down in a cloud of dust
And I won't quit 'til the love we've known
Is twisted steel and broken stone
Like it never lived, like it never was
This is the demolition of us

(Hit my heart with a wrecking ball)
This is the demolition of us
(Brick by brick, wall by wall)
Oh, the demolition of us
(Twisted steel, broken stone)
Yeah, the demolition of us
(Hit my heart with a wrecking ball)
Yeah, the demolition of us
(Brick by brick, wall by wall)
Yeah, the demolition of us
(Brick by brick)
Oh yeah
(Wall by wall)
The demolition of us
