

is it so wrong?

Aaron Taos

I met her waiting for the bathroom
Different person with the same old story
Now she's laughing at my bad jokes
Even though I know she barely hears them
I can feel that it's a time bomb
I'm just waiting for the detention
My friends are calling from the staircase
I can tell them that it won't be long till the moments gone

Hands-on my face
Tell me I should stay
Should I stay

Kiss my lips and bite my tongue
Won't you steal the breath from out my lungs?
Till it's all gone, all gone (hey, hey)
I keep choking on my words
Would you help me out and say them first?
Is it so wrong? (Hey, hey) is it so wrong?

So I'm filling at the gas pump
Bumper sticker on a beat-up Camry
Couldn't find a cold open
So I'm going over pick-up lines my whole damn drive
It's a dead end
Coming up with conversation
Guess I never learn my lesson
Overthinking is my favorite high but don't say sorry

Put your hands on my face
Tell me I should stay
Should I stay?
Wait

Kiss my lips and bite my tongue
Won't you steal the breath from out my lungs?
Till it's all gone, all gone (hey, hey)
I keep choking on my words
Would you help me out and say them first?
Is it so wrong? (Hey, hey) is it so wrong?

Going up in my flames
All going to waste
Will it finally, finally go my way?

Kiss my lips and bite my tongue
Won't you steal the breath from out my lungs?
Till it's all gone, all gone (hey, hey)
I keep choking on my words
Would you help me out and say them first?
Is it so wrong? (Hey, hey) is it so wrong?
So wrong? If it's so wrong
