

Big Eyes

Abandoned Pools

When the day ends
And the light is gone
I can feel time spinning down
In your big eyes
How they've come and gone
And the world keeps spinning round

And I, I can feel the weight
The weight of your sigh on my mind
And it's coming down, down
Down to the last of your nine lives

In your mind's eye
All alone in there
Is there more than I can see?
In your big eyes
In your little world
I can see you spiraling

And I, I can feel the weight
The weight of your sigh on my mind
(I failed you)
And it's coming down, down
Down to the last of your nine lives
And here for all time
No, no you're not come
Coming back from this

When the day ends
And the light is gone
And the world keeps spinning round
I will leave here
If you say the word
I can see you spiral down

And I, I can feel the weight
The weight of your sigh on my mind
(I failed you)
And it's coming down, down
Down to the last of your nine lives left
