

Occupy

Abandoned Pools

All the thoughts
Down one way streets
How they plague us and lead to nothing
All of us with just one cause
To occupy your heart and so-called mind
Start to say
I know what's on your mind
It's an open book
Today throw away your mask and cowardice it won't be missed
All aboard a sinking ship
It isn't pretty but needs to happen
Seems to me I got it all wrong
They occupy my heart and so-called mind
So your thoughts occupy your heart
So they cause darkness in your eyes
Nonsense thoughts occupy your heart and so-called mind
