

Only So Many Days

Abandoned Pools

Get your feet back on the ground
Or lose yourself
This hypothetical hogwash doesn't slide
And every second brings you closer to your grave
The only lifeline offered you didn't take

In time
In time
In time
In time

For you now
Only love, only sorrow
Counts at the end of the day
All my hope, all my heartache
Lights up and clears out the haze
So one day, maybe tomorrow
Only so many days
All my love, all my sorrow
Gets me on my way

The objects get imprinted with our memories
The sentimental thoughts are meaningless
But something in your instinct thinks you've gone astray
All 'cause something better never came

In time
In time
In time
In time

For you now
Only love, only sorrow
Counts at the end of the day
All my hope, all my heartache
Lights up and clears out the haze
So one day, maybe tomorrow
Only so many days
All my love, all my sorrow
Gets me on my way

In time
In time

For you now
Only love, only sorrow
Counts at the end of the day
All my hope, all my heartache
Lights up and clears out the haze
So one day, maybe tomorrow
Only so many days
All my love, all my sorrow
Gets me on my way
