

Am I The Problem?

Abbey Glover

Go on say it again
Print it in my brain
You're leaving
You don't love me anymore
My heart's breaking
With every step you're taking
Hope it's just a bad dream
And you'll be here in the morning

But how could you do that to me baby?
Break my heart like it's nothing
And walk away
See I'm here picking up all the pieces
That you left darling
Why did you lie when you said you loved me?

Go on hurt me again
I've grown used to it
Oh, is it me?
Am I the problem honey?
Why does love start so sweet
Then end up so sour
Maybe it's not for me
I'm tired of feeling so down

But how could you do that to me baby?
Break my heart like it's nothing
And walk away
See I'm here picking up all the pieces
That you left darling
Why did you lie when you said you loved me?

Now I have no idea where I'm going
The steps you took
I thought we'd take together
I don't like the unknown
And I'm left without knowing
Is there someone with a little love?
They could show me

Oh, how could you do that to me baby?
Break my heart like it's nothing
And walk away
See I'm here picking up all the pieces
That you left darling
Why did you lie when you said you loved me?
