

I Hate You

Abbey Glover

You really got into my head
I believed every word you said
You make me feel oh so alive
Then you made me feel dead inside
I hate you
I hate you
I hate you

It started off so sweet and nice
You turned a dream into real life
Then it turned into a nightmare
Filled my head right up with lies
I hate you
I hate you
I hate you

I hope one day you realize
It's not a game playing with someone else's life
What goes around comes back around
But you know that already
But if karma doesn't get you
I will so be ready

Breakfast in bed movies long walks
Staying up all night because we'd talk
About our dreams and aspirations
You just had good imagination
I hate you
I hate you
I hate you

I'd take you wherever you wanted
All you'd have to do was say
I paid for all of it but now
You're the one who'll pay
I hate you
I hate you
I hate you

I hope one day you realize
It's not a game playing with someone else's life
What goes around comes back around
But you know that already
But if karma doesn't get you
I will so be ready

I may seem sweet
But I can be real scary
Now that I've healed
I'll give you back what you gave me
Back what you gave me

I hope one day you realize
But you know that already
But if karma doesn't get you

I will so be ready
