

Good Man Gone

Abby Anderson

Single

Takes on a new meaning these days
For a girl just trying to find a place
That's safe to land
And just when
You think you found some people you can trust
He takes your heart and tells you you're the one
Until he runs away

Well, I know now they ain't all bad
I'm a lucky girl
'Cause I know I have
A good man, a damn good lover
A good friend, superman undercover
And I can hear 'em, all my girls singing
"Let that one go he'll be taken in a minute"
He's a good man
And he's all mine, but it kinda feels wrong
To take another good man
Make him another good man gone

I ain't
Apologizing for lockin' you down
You make me feel like a queen with a crown
And I'm down for life
But if I could talk to every girl in the world right now
I'd say hold out for
A good man, a damn good lover
A good friend, superman undercover
And I can hear 'em, all my girls singing
"Let that one go he'll be taken in a minute"
He's a good man
And he's all mine, but it kinda feels wrong
To take another good man
Make him another good man gone

Ooh, ooh, ooh

He's a good man, a damn good lover
A good friend, superman undercover
And I can hear 'em, all my girls singing
"Let that one go he'll be taken in a minute"
He's a good man
And he's all mine, but it kinda feels wrong
To take another good man
Make him another good man gone
Yeah, I got a good man
And he's another good man gone
