

See You Like That

Abby Anderson

I remember your smile reaching your eyes
Life of the party, we laughed 'til we cried
I remember your hands tucking me in Feeding my dreams when you had something to give

And they say I should be thankful
For that picture of you in my head
But it's so hard to be thankful
When I can't see it like I did
And I said

Come on, baby, can we go back
To you at 35, stunning, head back laughing?
When you wasn't sipping, fading into black
Even only for a minute, mama, I just wanna see you like that

See you, see you, see you like that
Just to see you, see you, see you

When you were the one, call just to check in Cracking a joke at your own expense
Oh, and your poker face, so innocent
Life was a game and you were going all in

And they say I should be thankful
For that picture of you in my head
So I guess that I'm thankful
For knowing someone I don't wanna forget

So come on, baby, can we go back
To you at 35, stunning, head back laughing?
When you wasn't sipping, fading into black
Even only for a minute, mama, I just wanna see you like that

See you, see you, see you like that
Just to see you, see you, see you like that
Just to see you, see you, see you like that
Just to see you, see you, see you

So come on, pretty baby
I know you miss her too
She's knocking on the door
Won't you let her on through?
That girl's still you

Come on, baby, can we go back
To you at 35, stunning, head back laughing?
When you wasn't sipping, fading into black
Even only for a minute, mama, I just wanna see you
Dancing in the kitchen, feet on the dash
I've been wishing, I've been wishing for a minute
I see you spinning like a child, barefoot in the grass
Even only for a minute, mama, I just wanna see you like that

See you, see you, see you like that (See you like that)
Just to see you, see you, see you like that (I wanna see you like that)
Just to see you, see you, see you like that (Still see you like that)

Just to see you, see you, see you
