

Deja Vu

Abe Parker

I'm fakin' feelins
She's fallin' faster than I'm healin'
From what you said, but didn't mean it
I'm moving on, but still can't move
Oh

Nowhere to take her, we didn't go
Nothin' to tell her, that you don't know
We drive for hours, cause this whole town still feels like you
It feels like you
Yeah, yeah, yeah

Don't think I'll tell her, "we sat right here too"
I'll say I love her, right where you said "we're through"
Put all the cards back in my sleeve
Cause she deserves what's left of me
If it's for you
And I get deja vu, yeah

You say you're happy
I know that tone, and that's not happy
You're just trying to get back at me
For finding someone before you (ooh-oh)
And there was time to, call if you wanted
Say you were wrong for
Calling it off, the moment is gone
I find it hard, it's gonna
Try to piece myself back together now
When she starts asking bout'
The truth, about me and you
Yeah, yeah

I think I'll tell her, "we sat right here too"
I'll say I love her, right where you said "we're through"
Put all the cards back in my sleeve
Cause she deserves what's left of me
If it's for you

And I get deja vu, yeah (Tell her)
And I get deja vu, yeah (Love her)
And I get deja vu, yeah (Tell her)
Whoo (if it's for you)

I think I'll tell her, "we sat right here too"
I'll say I love her, right where you said "we're through"
Put all the cards back in my sleeve
Cause she deserves what's left of me
If it's for you

And I get deja vu, yeah
