

Stayed Strangers

Abigail Barlow

So you left in peace, what about the pieces?
That you took of me, baby, I'm still grieving
But you're probably moving on just like the seasons do
And I want you to, but
Know what hurts the most is that I can't hate you
I still want you close 'cause it's just my nature
Know that I'm supposed to feel technicolor but I'm feeling blue
'Cause

I don't ever think I'll be over you
All the memories, why'd you have to screw
It up so bad? Everything we had
We shoulda just stayed strangers, stayed strangers
And I know that I'm gonna find someone
And the sun will rise and my world goes on
But my heart's still yours and I'm still so torn
We shoulda just stayed strangers, strangers like we were before
We should just stayed strangers, stayed strangers

So you left in peace but you left me screaming
Till I couldn't breathe, baby, I'm still bleeding
But you're probably moving on just like the seasons do
And I want you to, but
Know what hurts the most is that it's my problem
Couldn't let you go when I hit rock bottom
Know that I'm supposed to feel technicolor but I'm feeling blue
'Cause

I don't ever think I'll be over you
All the memories, why'd you have to screw
It up so bad? Everything we had
We shoulda just stayedstrangers, stayed strangers
And I know that I'm gonna find someone
And the sun will rise and my world goes on
But my heart's still yours and I'm still so torn
We shoulda just stayed strangers, strangers like we were before
Strangers like we were before
And I know that I'm gonna find someone
And the sun will rise and my world goes on
But my heart's still yours, and I'm still so torn
We shoulda just stayed strangers, strangers like we were before
