

Burn Thru

Abigail Washburn

Started out simple
Started out clean
Like a starlit night
Smell of rain

The day stacked up
And the air grew thin
Gravity pulling
Pulling me down in

Push up from the bed
Feel my hit the floor
Dreamt I was running
Through a field of fire

Shadows in my tracks
But I ain't looking back
At the rest of you

Hey I'm trying so hard
To see the light
To see the light
To see it burn thru hey hey hey

Not going down with the rest of you
I'm not going down with the rest of you

Now you're asking for answers
You want a clarion call
But you're drowning in echos
Bouncing off walls

I ain't no prophet
I got no horn to blow

So let the darkness fall
Let the sky charred up black
Let the animals out
Let the plate come back

So you rock me in the morning
Wake my body up
Till the light comes through
Till you gotta shout

Hey I'm trying so hard
To see the light
To see the light
To see it burn thru

Hey I'm trying so hard
To see the light
To see the light
To see it burn thru hey hey hey

Not going down with the rest of you
I'm not going down like you want me to

We all want something else

Now you're running in my tracks
At the rest of you

Now you're running in my tracks
At the rest of you

Now you're running in my tracks
At the rest of you

Oh you're running in my tracks
At the rest of you

Now you're running in my tracks
At the rest of you

Oh you're running in my tracks
At the rest of you

Now you're running in my tracks
At the rest of you

We all want something else
