

New Dawn

Abigail

In every single day I've tried to understand
Where all this sorrow's gonna take me to,
I thought there was no chance for me to change
And everywhere I looked, and all I've heard
Was much more pain to grow that seemed to never end
I knew I had to fight...

I longed for those days of peace and love
Of dreams coming true to an end
I just want that back, I'll take a stand
It is my last wish...

I've promised to myself the strength this moment on
To rise again from lust and grief undo
This curse that fell on me, release my pain
This chapter of my life shall end I know
For all I did in past was to complain
But now I'm all awake...

I longed for those days of peace and love
Of dreams coming true to an end
I just want that back, I'll take a stand
It is my last wish...
