

Deus Ex

Aborted

Deus ex superbia
Ex avaritia
Ex luxuria
A god forged in the flames of sin
Seeks to rule the world and all of his kin

We paint the skies with poison trails
And plunder land where nature prevails
The lust for unfettered power blinds our sight
As we destroy with no respite
In our hands the future dies
But still, we reach for endless skies

Our arrogance and boundless greed
Enslaving masses and now we will bleed
We live for pleasure, but death is our seed
For the sins of our god, we will bleed

This is a promise, we will transcend
The ultimate cost
A world decayed
A story untold
We are the god

A twisted reign
We built the god, we built the pain
In his grip we will take our last breaths

The Earth beneath, we drag it down
In the ruins we wear the crown
Apotheosis, mankind's utmost art
We are the god that tears ourselves apart

Deus ex superbia
Conceited pride, a beacon burning bright
Deus ex avaritia
Arisen from the depths of avarice
Deus ex luxuria
Preys the world, deaf to its cries
A god forged in the flames of sin
Seeks to rule the world and all of his kin

We are the god
We are the god
