

Malevolent Haze

Aborted

As dread is conceived
In the corners of the psyche
Their demise is veiled by a haze
A fate met with the guidance of hell
A mist of horrors now glazed by death

A grotesque, primeval seed
Obscured by fog, the unknown awaits
As monsters rise from within
Desperation claws at our hearts
This is no fantasy

They'll be excoriated
Into the dark, into the fog

Arachnoid horrors shall exploit
Sanity forlorn, consuming all
The onslaught's never-ending role
Religious cancer takes a toll
The righteous fall

The ultimate widowmaker
The darkness within
This curse is never-ending
We face the enemy within

In this vile, eldritch veil
Where sanity and reason fail
We drudge through blood and gore
In this mist, where death awaits you all
Where death will take you all

Within the abyss lies a symphony
Sweet melody of violence

A vile, malevolent haze
Prelude to suffering
Purveying hate eternal
At the stroke of twelve
They'll pay the price
Forever

In the malevolent haze
I watch them turn on each other
In the malevolent haze
I watch them burn

A final act of despair
Liberate me from this eternal hell
The mist slowly taken away
What have I done?
