

Biker Babe

Above & Beyond

Biker Babe, Biker Babe
I went off in your arms
I thought I'd been disarmed
But I fell in love with you
What a silly thing to do

Biker Babe, Biker Babe
Leather clad and cold
Too scared of growing old
To ever try and smile
You let your pretty face beguile

When I saw you at The Roadhouse
You looked so ill, I paid your bill
Then I met you at the courthouse
You said "be mine", I paid your fine
Then you took me to your bedroom
And rode me round the room
I don't mean to be sad
But this runaway life is denial
Of all the love that you had
And threw away

Biker Babe, Biker Babe
You're never by my side
You keep your feelings deep inside
Zipped right up to your chin
Your tears are drying in the wind

Then you told me that some history
You thought was dead had reared its head
So you took me to your old house
And said "be strong - I won't be long"
But I peeked in through the window
He punched you round the room
I don't mean to be sad
But this runaway life is denial
Of all the love that you had
And threw away

I know you're strong
Steer right, do wrong
And I know you'll never miss me
But every night I hear you call my name
From a dream that's filled with angels
Parked underneath your shoes
If you would only move

I know you're strong
Steer right, do wrong
And I know you'll never miss me
But every night I hear you call my name
From a dream that's filled with angels
Parked underneath your shoes
If you would only move
If you would only move

Biker Babe
Ride off into the sun
On a Harley made for one...