

Here Before

Above & Beyond

You are where I wanna be
My arms, they open up to reach
Out there into reverie
This time, we're tearing at the seams
We're tearing at the seams

I'm staring at the light in the distance
And everything I wanted is fading
For all I know, we've been here before
We've been here before
I'm staring at the light in the distance
I'm running to the heart of the haven
For all I know, we've been here before
We've been here before

We've been here before
We've been here before
We've been here before
We've been here before

Your voice calling out to me
My heart breaking piece by piece
How close will we ever be?
Right now, we're tearing at the seams
We're tearing at the seams

I'm staring at the light in the distance
And everything I wanted is fading
For all I know, we've been here before
We've been here before
I'm staring at the light in the distance
I'm running to the heart of the haven
For all I know, we've been here before
We've been here before

We've been here before
We've been here before
We've been here before

I'm staring at the light in the distance
And everything I wanted is fading
For all I know, we've been here before
We've been here before
I'm staring at the light in the distance
I'm running to the heart of the haven
For all I know, we've been here before
We've been here before
