

Don't know where I'm going, I just know I had to leave
Done so much for you, time I did something for me
Pedal to the metal, tires burning through the street
Burning rubber got me feeling like I'm burning memories
But you won't know what you lost til I'm too far gone
So I might leave reminders in this song

But here's the 401
Thought you were one of one
I'm going 101, tryna lose this love that I've been dreaming up
'Cause here's the 401 (Here's the 401)
Thought you were one of one (Thought you were one of one)
I'm going 101, tryna lose this love that I've been dreaming up
So here's the 401

I was falling in love with the idea
Even inches apart, I knew you weren't there
Couldrip my heart out my chest and still you won't care
Farewell but not a part of this seems fair
Hanging onto visions that I knew we can't be Finding out that you never knew a thing about me
Realizing I never was sure what I saw in you, you

But here's the 401
Thought you were one of one
I'm going 101, tryna lose this love that I've been dreaming up
'Cause here's the 401 (Here's the 401)
Thought you were one of one (Thought you were one of one)
I'm going 101, tryna lose this love that I've been dreaming up
So here's the 401

Last night was the last fight
That's the last time that I fight for you
Last night was the last fight
That's the last time that I fight for you
Last night was the last fight
That's the last time that I fight for you
Last night was the last fight
That's the last time

But here's the 401 (Here's the 401)
Thought you were one of one (Thought you were one of one)
I'm going 101, tryna lose this love that I've been dreaming up
'Cause here's the 401 (Here's the 401)
Thought you were one of one (Thought you were one of one)
I'm going 101, tryna lose this love that I've been dreaming up
So here's the 401
