

Headaches & Heartbreaks

Abstract

Headed southbound on a parkway
This life goin' faster than a car chase
Been through hard times and I been through dark days
Sick of all the fucking headaches and the heartbreaks

I'm not, I'm not overjoyed, yeah, at the time, I'm unemployed
Can't help but feel my life's destroyed
When hope is gone, what fills the void?
I don't know where I should go from here
Things were so much simpler this time last year
But then I fell for a girl who was insincere
Hurt my head, broke my heart, she left me in tears
She was just going through the motions, meanwhile, I was catching feelings
And one day, she started ghosting, and it really had me reeling
Every day, I go outside, a ton of pain that I'm concealing
I go through it by myself, don't tell nobody that I'm dealing
With some problems I can't figure out, it's getting to my head
Never mean to cry & pout I'm overly sensitive
Somedays, facing the world is truly somethin' that I dread
These last few months feel like I been going downhill without the sled

Headed southbound on a parkway
This life goin' faster than a car chase
Been through hard times and I been through dark days
Sick of all the fucking headaches and the heartbreaks
Headed southbound on a parkway
This life goin' faster than a car chase
Been through hard times and I been through dark days
Sick of all the fucking headaches and the heartbreaks

They said one day everything was gonna make sense
Songs I wrote about my pain paying my rent
Optimism lately feeling like a curse
Give my all to women who would rather see me in the dirt
What's the word? Chasing love, say it first, all because Wear emotion on my sleeve, way too quick to serve it up
Tend to think that everyone I meet is just as true as me
Twenty-seven while my heart been put through hell since seventeen

Headed southbound on a parkway
This life goin' faster than a car chase
Been through hard times and I been through dark days
Sick of all the fucking headaches and the heartbreaks
Headed southbound on a parkway
This life goin' faster than a car chase
Been through hard times and I been through dark days
Sick of all the fucking headaches and the heartbreaks
