

In The End

Abstract

Ohh the way
We wanna live
Everybody wants to be happy and when
Our time is up
We wanna build
A legacy to leave behind for ones that we love
But what most don't realize
Is one's who succeed
They come from sacrifice
For every moment of life
Some have no joy left inside
Spend time but leave none aside
And on the day when they die
They leave a legacy, but what's the point if broke inside

And in the end
If we be can come together
We can storm any weather
And in the end
Yea your legacy won't matter
If you follow the same pattern

Ohh the way
We dwell on our sins
The time that we lose we get caught up within
Don't know where to start
Most can't speak from their heart
Real beauty lies deeper within the soul like fine art
But what most don't realize
Is one's who succeed
They come from sacrifice
For every moment of life
Spend time but leave none aside
And on the day when they die
They leave a legacy, but what's the point if broke inside

And in the end
If we be can come together
We can storm any weather
And in the end
Yea your legacy won't matter
If you follow the same pattern

Lot of people steady livin' on their will now
Lot of evil, we forgettin' what is real now
Tell me who's the one to come and wake em up
Sleep walking through the days cause the night's get tough
Chain's spendin' better than their 9-5
When you hate where you're headed hard to feel alive
Servin' dreams instead of livin em, ask em why
It's just a lie they've been living by most their life
Look at me like a rebel never sipped the juice
Kool-Aid what a way to handicap the youth
Criticize any minds who can seek the truth
Get the sheep blind just so they can tie the noose
I'll be damned if I wonder why they reap the fruits

Golden eggs taken from the Corp of Coop
This a prayer for the lost to the found, salute
Live a life not a lie who am I to prove

And in the end
If we be can come together
We can storm any weather
And in the end
Yea your legacy won't matter
If you follow the same pattern
