

Try Again Next Year

Abstract

I thought that I would be happy
But I made the same mistakes
I feel my whole world collapsing
Don't know how much I can take

Back when I was 22
I said 27's when I'll hit my prime
But I hope that that's not true
Cause I've never felt worse in my fucking life
Nothing's really going how I wrote in my notebook
Every day I'm wondering why
Hanging all these pictures in the rooms that I won't look
Everything's been scaring me
I swear I need some clarity

I'm tired of resolutions
And fighting my to-do list
Maybe I'll change this time, cause

I thought that I would be happy
But I made the same mistakes
I feel my whole world collapsing
Don't know how much I can take
Cause nothing's gone the way it should
And I'm still standing here
I thought that I would be happy
Try again next year

Every year got a resolution
Something I been lacking that I need improving
I should run around the block
Spending too much time inside
Here I am again inside my studio recording lines
I'ma switch up on 'em, I'ma change for the better now
Open up the door like oh! rain is coming down
Guess I got tomorrow weather might be looking good
I'm a sucker for whatever's gonna get me off the hook

It's a nice thought, don't you think dog?
We go round and around like tick tock
I got time though, check my wrist watch
It's December 31st so I guess not

I thought that I would be happy
But I made the same mistakes
I feel my whole world collapsing
Don't know how much I can take
Cause nothing's gone the way it should
And I'm still standing here
I thought that I would be happy
Try again next year

I thought that I would be happy
Try again next year
I thought that I would be happy
Try again next year
