

Mallona (Broken Planet)

Absurd Minds

... weil diese Erdenmenschen noch nicht gelernt haben, Frieden zu halten.

Weder mit sich selbst, mit seinesgleichen oder mit dem All.

As a signal of warning - a fire in space,
A warning for your doing - this annihilated place.
It's up to you, it's up to your race
If you don't suffer this doom like the planet in space.
You have to learn and you have to fight.
Remember at last - everything has its price.
Here you've got your will, it says, and you've got a choice,
You've got the liberty to choose. Don't forget to use it.

In my empire I saw a fire.
Next thousands of fragments rotated around,
Moons left their orbit and strayed in the starry ocean.
Suddenly there was no life anymore.
Mallona - a fire I've seen.
Flames licked high. You know what I mean.
It happens there, where you can choose
- good or evil, live or lose.
Only there, where you can choose
- good or evil, live or lose.

We're living in the nuclear age,
Misusing an uncontrollable force.
Look at the sky, then look into yourself.
The traces speak a shocking language.
The swarm of asteroids a a monument of transience.
Result of unblessed human hands, - dead cosmic things.
