Deep Dark Forest

The sky is clear and the moon shines bright The stars look through the trees The night is black and the snow is white All things seem to have deceased The glowing eyes of animals around: staring at me The cold wind blows into my face Like fire does it seem

Full moon shining silvern down
The day shall never come
My tears are running from my eyes
My blood pearls from my arms
I am immortal, i can't die but I will feel sweet pain
My eyes are red, my hair is black
Black are my fingernails

Eternal deep dark forest Eternal is the night - Deep dark forest eternally

The sun rises up, I flee the light The forest's hiding me But winter is, the days are short and dark are all the trees The sun goes down; the twilight comes followed by the night Silent stands the deep dark forest and the moon shines bright

Eternal deep dark forest Eternal is the night - Deep dark forest eternally

Absurd