

There's nothing to lose, but you're still losing
Nothing to give, but you're still giving back
There's no one to leave that ain't worth leaving
Nothing to love that ain't worth loving back

And if I ever really want to feel alive
I take a look into your endless eyes and find

I'm still here, I'm still here

Should I lose my will?
Should I chase the thrill?
Oh, I could be anyone
Is there grace to give
In the place you live?
Oh, I can go anywhere

And if I ever really want to feel alive
I take a look into your endless eyes and find

I'm still here
You're just in time, in time to save me
I'm still here
Heaven's close, but will you find me?
Only living this life alone brings fear
I'm still here

Will you live one more, one more life with me?
Life with me

I'm still here
You're just in time, in time to save me
I'm still here
Heaven's close, but will you take me?
Only living this life alone brings fear
I'm still here, I'm still here
