

In Denial

ACCVSED

Lying here, feeling empty, can't see anything
The ceiling lights are making me blind and there's no remedy
I'm lost in my mind, close to insanity
Can someone help, can someone help me please?

Someday you'll think of me and regret what you've done
The great unknown will be gone
Tear me to pieces, rip me apart
It only made me stronger

Can't find a way out of this misery
Remember the days when I felt complete

When I felt complete
I was already gone before you left me
Get out of my head, just leave me alone
Even the brightest days couldn't save my soul

I saw the black as it hit the sky
I saw the life drain from my eyes
And I lost myself
In the substance of the gloom

You've been everything to me
I can't remember the days when I felt complete

When I felt complete
I was already gone before you left me
Get out of my head, just leave me alone
Even the brightest days couldn't save my soul

Couldn't save my soul

Get out of my head, just leave me alone
Even the brightest days couldn't save my soul

Drown in my own misery
Feeling hopeless in these times of uncertainty
Sleep 'til noon, wake up at night
Got nothing to say, I can't stand this

No!
I guess I'm better off without you

Lying here, feeling empty, can't see anything
The ceiling lights are making me blind and there's no remedy
I'm lost in my mind, close to insanity
Can someone help, can someone help me please?