In My Dreams

Ace Troubleshooter

Tonight I can't sleep,
Because of all the thoughts I keep,
Running around inside my brain.
Sweet memories come back,
Yeah thoughts of you attack my head,
Making me go so insane.

In my dreams you are there,
And in my dreams we are a pair.
Why did it have to turn out this way?
In my thoughts you are there,
And in my every thought you care,
The look of love in your eyes, I'll stay.

Remembering you and all the little things you do,
So I look away and I fake a smile.
Waiting for a sign, wishing I could drop a line,
I'm missing you, it's been a while.

A brand new page, a whole clean slate
It's too bad it's without you- -and the smile that I wore is go ne, you shut the door.
A friend, but I'll always want more, I'll always want more.
So now I just hope that the world is treating you fine
And I hope your memories are sweet as mine.
Goodbye's are hard
