

Bloodlust

Acres

There's a world, there's a world on the tip of my tongue
I can taste ya, ya so bitter but I always bite for more
Yeah, I always bite for more

Bloodlust...

You sunk into my veins, you twist and you turn me
I can't give you up
Deeper and deeper you dig right into me I won't let you stop
Abusively leave marks on me a wound that never heals
Consume my world and break my soul cause I don't wanna feel

Bloodlust...

So light a fire burning beneath my skin
I feel you pulling me in

I give my flesh to the host that owns me

Put your poison into me
Rip apart my everything

Dig your claws in slowly
Drain the life from my worthless body
I like to feel so empty
Give my flesh to the host that owns me

There's a world, there's a world on the tip of my tongue

Bloodlust...

So light a fire burning beneath my skin
I feel you pulling me in
