

Burning Throne

Acres

And you keep pushing away
If I bleed would you still help me
To make it out alive

And you're so cold
But I can't let you take this away from me
You can't take this from me
And you're so cold
Help me find a way to escape you

And you said you'd promise the world
But all you did was take it all just for yourself
Dictator we worship under the blinding lights
Consuming the air that keeps us alive

You can't take this from me

And you're so cold
But I can't let you take this away from me
You can't take this from me
And you're so cold
Help me find a way to escape you
You can't take this from me

Take this from me
Take this from me
Take this from me
Fucking take this from me
Don't apologize for pleading ignorance
On top of a burning throne you scream off with their heads

And you're so cold
But I can't let you take this away from me
You can't take this from me
And you're so cold
Help me find a way to escape you

And you're so cold
And you're so cold
Help me find a way to escape you
