

Give me something, to forget
This pain in my chest
And if you loved me like you say you do
You would have never done this
Now I'm bruised and I'm broken
My face in the dirt
And if you loved me like you say you do
You'd put an end to all this hurt (end to all this hurt)

Go on, and live your life without me by your side
Broken, I wander these streets at night
My head is filled with all the lies that you would say
But I guess I'll still love you same

Give me something, to forget
This pain in my chest
And if you loved me like you say you do
You would have never done this
And if it's come to this
You better do it with my hands
Behind my back and if it's come to this
You better make sure that you get your hit
And if it's come to this
You better do it with my hands
Behind my back and if it's come to this
You better make sure that you get your hit

What have we become, will we always be this way?
I've tried a thousand times, will you still look at me the same
What have we become, will we always be this way?
I've tried a thousand times, will you still look at me the same
What have we become, will we always be this way?
I've tried a thousand times, will you still look at me the same
What have we become, will we always be this way?
I've tried a thousand times, will you still look at me the same

Bruised and I'm broken my face in the dirt
Your teeth sink in my skin when my back is turned
Give me something to forget this pain in my chest
And if you loved me like you say you do
You would have never, ever done this
