

Lost

Acres

You promised me, that you would keep
A small part of me when you leave
And now you've got me wrapped
Around your finger tips

So tell what it what means to be like this
Playing god and cutting my strings your pulling
You showed me what it's like to be worthless
Now I don't need a reason to keep on hurting

You left me when I was so lost
If you loved me then why would you run
You left me and now I'm falling apart
Now I don't feel a thing

So tell what it what means to be like this
Pushing me away without any warning
No, I don't need your sympathy, darling
You don't need a reason to keep on hurting

Stab my back and spit in my face
When all we had is a distant memory
Was what you told me true
Did I mean anything to you?

You left me when I was so lost
If you loved me then why would you run
You left me and now I'm falling apart
Now I don't feel a thing for you
No, I don't feel a thing for you

You can't see that your love tore me apart
You cut my wings, so I can't find where you are
And effortlessly I've been aching
Underneath these scars
Now I don't feel a thing for you

You left me when I was so lost
If you loved me then why would you run
You left me and now I'm falling apart
Now I don't feel a thing for you
No, I don't feel a thing for you

You left me when I was so lost
You left me when I was so lost
You left me when I was so lost
No, I don't feel a thing for you
