

Overseer

Acres

I had no choice
But to replace you the first time
All your promises were broke and
Stuck inside your mind
I have a vision of you
Corrupted by the demons
That are holding onto you
Despite what you are
You were one of us

Tell me, where did we go wrong?
If I confess to every sin I've made
Would you accept me as your own?

You preach for forgiveness
'Cause your hearts been torn apart

How does it feel
To be pushed out from the circle
Losing all the people who thought
That they could trust you?
You have a vision of me
Stronger than the strongest heart
That you've ever seen

You put your self in way to deep
As your world crumbles from beneath your feet
And you pray to God ask for reasons why
You are all alone in this dark life
You can barely sleep, you can barely eat
As you turn to dust you feel so weak
And you pray to God ask for reasons why
You are all alone in this dark life

I had no choice
