

Anthem For The Broken

Ad Infinitum

Tell me how it feels to be unbroken
I'll tell you how it feels to fall
Tell me how to hear the words unspoken
When I hear the midnight call

I can hear a sound in the silence
Pressures pushing me around
In a different place or time
I can find my peace of mind
But I keep dragging myself down
Like the sky is raining on me

Tell me how it feels to be unbroken
I'll tell you how it feels to fall
Tell me how to hear the words unspoken
When I hear the midnight call

I've searched for peace in all the wrong places
Heaven knows how hard I tried
And when I'm up against myself
My haven is a living Hell
But it's all part of the story
That's the good, the bad, the ugly

Tell me how it feels to be unbroken
I'll tell you how it feels to fall
Tell me how to hear the words unspoken
When I hear the midnight call

Unbroken

Tell me how it feels to be unbroken
I'll tell you how it feels to fall
Tell me how to hear the words unspoken
When I hear the midnight call

Tell me how it feels to be unbroken
I'll tell you how it feels to fall
Tell me how to hear the words unspoken
When I hear the midnight call