

Eternal Rains

Ad Infinitum

There's a storm in the air, it's coming closer
I can tell that we swim in troubled waters
And the fate of the worlds, above and under
Unstable like fire

We look up to the sky to find the answer
What's the meaning of pain without a sweetener
Decipher the ultimate enigma
Is this a lie?

We circle
But where's our faith?
Inner battles
When the flame is back they fade away

Fade away, away
I'll rise above the waves of this insanity
Bring back the shimmering light, the might of a miracle
Before the shadows arise, I will embrace
Eternal rains

At the edge of the world of contradictions
Cultivating our pain through your ambition
To expand the scope of your horizon
We consume the daily poison

We look down to the ground just to feel safer
Silencing the dream of rising higher
Obedient betrayers of our own mind
Is this a crime?

We crumble
They lead the way
Inner struggles
When the flame ignites they fade away

Fade away, away
I'll rise above the waves of this insanity
Bring back the shimmering light, the might of a miracle
Before the shadows arise, I will embrace
Eternal rains

Fade away with me
Eternity awaits
When the ground is shaking
Salvation is a silent dream so far away
I will wait for a new dawn, a new day
A new chance to

Fade away, away
I'll rise above the waves of this insanity
Bring back the shimmering light, the might of a miracle
Before the shadows arise, I will embrace
Eternal rains
