

You just come and go
That's all you'll ever know

You said it right
You're taking everything you want
A parasite
Invading without invitation
You throw a feast at other people's table
When tables turn you'll watch your castle crumble
Get ready for an endless fall

You just come and go
That's all you'll ever know
You're spinning round and round
It's getting out of control
You just come and go
It's all part of the show
You're spinning round and round
It's getting out of control

You put your knife
Right in the back and twist it right
A sacrifice
To get you to the other side
You throw some flowers, they ain't worth a dime
When your end game is to get the goddamn prize
The Devil's waiting for your soul
The end of the feast has arrived

You just come and go (Yeah, you just come and go)
That's all you'll ever know (Getting out of control)
You're spinning round and around
It's getting out of control
You just come and go (Yeah, you just come and go)
It's all part of the show (Getting out of control)
You're spinning round and round
It's getting out of control

Raging fears, unsettling truth
Keeping you awake
Justify your every move
With sorry excuses

You just come and go
That's all you'll ever know
You're spinning round and round
It's getting out of control
You just come and go
It's all part of the show
You're spinning round and round
It's getting out of control
Yeah, it's an endless fall
