The Underworld

Ad Infinitum

Welcome to the Underworld

Time is up and finally your judgment day arrives
You will face the consequences of your games and lies

The end arrived, it took you by surprise
It's like a free fall until you reach the ground
Listen, time is up and there is no way out
Welcome to the hallways of the Underworld

So you pray for the very first time
But no one is listening
This is your last sundown

There is no way home
When your heart is no longer beating
I wonder if it ever did
There is no way home
And there's no peace for the wicked
Deceiver, they're dancing on your grave
Dancing on your grave

You made your life look like a dream, distorted paradise
To elevate yourself above the people you despise

Memories of a sinful life
Raining on you, now you realise
You see, time has come for you to pay the price
Welcome to the gates of The End of Your Lies

See your last sundown

There is no way home
When your heart is no longer beating
I wonder if it ever did
There is no way home
And there's no peace for the wicked
Deceiver, they're dancing on your grave
Dancing on your grave

Remorses are starting to crawl under your skin
A sudden rash of guilt, oh
So you pray for the very last time
But no one is listening
Say your last goodbye

There is no way home
When your heart is no longer beating
I wonder if it ever did
There is no way home
And there's no peace for the wicked
Deceiver

There is no way home
And there's no peace for the wicked
Deceiver, they're dancing on your grave
On your grave
